

VRS is very fantastic to use. I desperately want to see it become an important real-time communication service. The VRS is for me much closer to functional equivalency than other telecommunications services. Please adopt the appropriate rate and regulatory requirements to ensure the continued development of technology and multi-vendoring of VRS. Thank you for your sincere attention and reconsideration of how important the VRS quality is.